They should have learned this principle of servanthood from Jesus, and from their _____.

THE SONS OF SALOME

Mark 10:35-45

Salome wasn't a woman who sought to be honored, she was a woman who _____.

Introduction:

We're going to look again at the sons of _____, and I'm going to have a second chance at a Mother's Day sermon.

She and other women took care of _____ and the _____ when they were traveling around the country teaching and healing others.

_____ and _____ were the sons of Salome.

The Sons of Thunder _____ lived up to their mother's name.

They were diamonds in the rough, and the Holy Spirit would have a lot of work to do in their lives to make them into _____ apostles.

May we too become sons and daughters of _____, following her example by serving Christ, supporting kingdom work, standing by the cross, and celebrating at an empty tomb.

I. THEY WERE MANIPULATIVE

Mark 10:35-37

According to Matthew it wasn't James and John who approached Jesus, it was their _____.

And may we, like Jesus, regard one another as more important than _____.

We really can't be sure whose _____ this was.

To so ignore what Jesus had just _____,
and think only of _____, is shocking.

Mark says nothing about their mother's involvement in this request, and shows them trying very hard to get what _____ want.

I think it was their idea, and they thought their mother would have special _____ with Jesus since she was His _____.

II. THEY WERE SELF-CENTERED

Mark 10:38-41

James and John were pretty _____ of themselves.

The cup Jesus was about to drink would be a _____ cup indeed.

When asked if _____ would be able to drink
it, they said, "Sure, we can do it."

When asked if they would be able to keep from _____ in the flood of sorrows that would overwhelm Him, they said in effect, "We can handle it."

They would share in His _____, but the places of honor in the kingdom couldn't be passed out like political _____.

The other disciples couldn't believe James and John thought they deserved _____ honor than anyone else in the entire kingdom of God.

III. THEY SHOULD HAVE KNOWN BETTER

Mark 10:42-45

From the Beatitudes on, Jesus had made it clear that in the kingdom the way to greatness is through
_____.

Jesus not only taught this, He _____ it.

Philippians 2:3-8
