

9/27/20

A salesman may or may not _____ in what he is selling, and he usually sells something in order to _____ from it.

TRANSCENDING TROUBLES TRIUMPHANTLY
II Corinthians 2:12-17

Paul was motivated by a _____ desire to share what he had been given in Christ.

Introduction:

What is your idea of a _____ Christian life?

If our ministry, or our faith, isn't for _____, or if it's motivated by _____ ambition, we'll not be able to transcend our troubles.

Riding through the battles of life without a _____?

If our faith is in the right _____, for the right _____, we can transcend our troubles triumphantly.

Rumbling _____ every foe as if he wasn't even there?

Those who are adequate for the challenges of life, are those who are _____ in their faith, who sense the _____ of God in their life, and who live their life in the _____ of Jesus.

Something always goes _____ in our Disney World, or our Sherman tank _____ down.

We openly _____ our frustrations and failures before God and man, with the full _____ that we are still marching in the triumph of Christ.

Even the apostle Paul had problems, he had _____.

I. TROUBLED

II Corinthians 2:12-13

Paul tells of a time when he _____ it.

Paul was _____.

He _____ on a great opportunity.

The Apostle Paul had his _____, his _____ his moments of _____, just as we do.

What separates him from most of us is the way he could bounce back so quickly from his troubles to _____.

II. TRIUMPHANT

II Corinthians 2:14-16

Even though Paul blew it, his _____ led on in _____.

The picture painted here is one of a _____ Triumph.

Priests who joined the processional with their censers would fill the city with what was to the Romans the sweet smell of _____, but to the captives, the sickening smell of _____.

Paul was saying everywhere I go, even though I might fail _____, the _____ of Christ is spread to everyone.

For the believer that is the aroma of _____, of _____, or _____ in Jesus.

In spite of our failures, we can still travel in the _____ of _____.

III. TRANSCENDENT

II Corinthians 2:17

The key to Paul's ability to transcend his troubles was that he was not merely _____ the word of God.