

III. WRITTEN BY THE SPIRIT

10/4/20

II Corinthians 3:5-6

We are not adequate to do God's work on our own
_____.

He wants us to be _____ through whom
He can work.

Through Him we can help one another to _____ the nature of Christ.

We don't do it by constantly riding people about their need for more _____ and
_____.

We merely _____ people to Christ and help them learn to follow the leading of His _____ in their life.

We're not out to make good _____ members,
we're out to share _____ and let Him write
His message of _____ on hearts, and help each other _____ that love.

THE LETTERS OF CHRIST

II Corinthians 3:1-6

Introduction:

Paul sets before us the need to evaluate those who would be our _____ leaders.

There are many different ways of measuring success in _____ or the effectiveness of a _____.

Since Paul wasn't a _____ of the word of God he shouldn't be judged as a _____.

Paul's _____ as a minister was simply letting _____ live His life through Him.

Paul's claims of sincerity could be validated by a _____ of commendation that could be _____ by all men.

I. READ BY ALL MEN

II Corinthians 3:1-2

The Corinthians themselves were the _____
of his ministry.

He _____ his work by what he saw happening in the _____ of those among whom he worked.

If someone wanted to know if his work was for real or not, all they had to do was look at Paul's
_____.

What kind of people had they _____?

We can evaluate the effectiveness of a _____ by the lives of those he affects.

But you are more than a letter of commendation for someone's ministry, you are a letter of
_____.

II. CARED FOR BY THE CHURCH

II Corinthians 3:3-4

If you bear the _____ of Christ, you are a _____ of Christ.

His _____ should be evident in our lives.

It's not _____ to make Jesus seen in our life because there's a lot of _____ that can get in the way.

Anyone who shepherds another is a _____.

_____ in the church should be involved in helping each other be _____ as letters of Christ.

We can effectively care for those letters of Christ if we'll recognize the _____ of our adequacy and the _____ of our ministry.